Due to the fact that Redwine is EVA positive, the following protocol must be followed:

Following first time insemination, mares must be isolated (no nose-to-nose contact) for a 21 day period, to afford ample opportunity for cessation of possible viral shedding via the respiratory tract. Should such mares fail to become pregnant, she can be bred back to a Redwine without the need for an additional 3-week isolation period post-insemination. Please feel free to contact us directly with any questions or concerns you may have with regards to this protocol.
